RETURN TO THE OLD MINT

The Granite Lady. A Mighty Fortress. The Old Mint. Whatever you call it, the Second United States Branch Mint at San Francisco is an architectural masterpiece.

Designed by the Treasury Department's Chief Architect, Albert Bult Mullett, the architectural drawings of the building are nearly as impressive as the building itself.

Join us online on July 22 as architectural historian Paul V. Turner presents the marvelous working drawings of the building, hidden away in the National Archives but never published.

NEW MEMBER APPLICATION

We have received a membership application from Mike McDaniel, of Scotts Valley, CA. Per PCNS bylaws, Mike will become an Active Member of PCNS at the July 22 meeting.

JUNE MEETING RECAP

Jason Macario presented a segment from his "Secrets of the Old Mint" talk, namely, the mysteries surrounding the building's cornerstone. After a review of the history of branch mints in San Francisco and the Masonic tradition relating to cornerstones, he discussed the reputed contents of the cornerstone's casket, namely, one coin of each denomination issued in 1870, the year the cornerstone was laid. Several of the issues are very rare, and one is thought to be unique. He addressed the five lingering questions: Is the casket still there? Are the contents intact? What is the condition of the contents? Where exactly is the (unmarked) cornerstone? Can and should the casket be recovered?

ZOOMING

Our July 22 meeting will take place online using the Zoom platform. If you're already familiar with Zoom, then you're all set. A meeting code/invitation link will be emailed to you separately.

If you're new to the Zoom service, you'll need to do a few things ahead of the meeting. Don't wait until the last minute to get set up!

Setup is fairly straightforward, but could be intimidating to those who aren't used to installing software. For detailed instructions, please see the April issue of the Bulletin.

Making Yourself Heard: When you join the session, your microphone is automatically muted, so no one will be able to hear you. When you wish to be heard, click the microphone icon at the bottom of the screen. Then, please re-engage the mute function. Sometimes a cough or background noise can cause you to pull the focus away from the presenter.

Member Exhibits (a.k.a., "Sharing"): Take pictures of any items you wish to exhibit, upload them to your computer or device, and share the pictures when the time comes. Holding objects up to your computer's camera does not work.

See you—virtually, at least—on the 22nd!
